The screenshot shows a Moodle course page for 'Digital Library / Video introduction'. The page has a search bar at the top with the text 'English (United States) (en_us)' and 'You are currently using guest access'. On the left, there is a navigation menu with items like 'Announcements', 'How confident are you? (1)', 'Learning survey: Help us...', 'Learner database', 'Background reading', and 'Video introduction' (which is highlighted). The main content area shows a video player with the title 'Video introduction' and a 'View' button. Below the video player, there is text: 'Here is a three minute video from Youtube about Digital literacy. Watch it and then join in the discussion forum.' and 'Download the video introduction transcript from the course page.' A video player interface is visible, showing a play button and the text 'VIDEO PRESS TO PLAY'.
