Creating Social Impact with ??Pforzheim University of Applied Sciences

Description

During the 42nd J. J. Strossmayer University of Osijek and Pforzheim University of Applied Sciences, the team from the Faculty of Economics in Osijek, presented the Creating social impact through customized digital teaching formats project.

During the presentation, they invited colleagues from Pforzheim University of Applied Sciences to fill the survey. As a part of the discussion, the question of how we can create social impact has risen. Colleagues from Pforzheim University of Applied Sciences showed interest in receiving the Audit report, which will result from Phase 1 of the project.

We look forward to sharing our work and creating more opportunities for discussion on our project topic in the months ahead.
